RE: James Hartson

To whom it may concern,

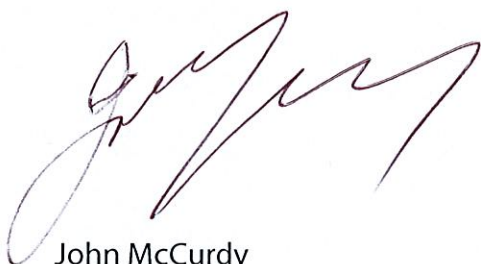

I have known James Hartson through his involvement in the Tennis World program over the past 2 years. In my role as Head Coach I am directly involved in a number squad sessions with James as part of his overall weekly program.

James has chosen the U.S Intercollegiate Tennis program as a pathway to developing his tennis over the next 4 years. Ultimately, James would like to be a professional tennis player and he has a realistic chance of achieving that. He has improved dramatically over the past 12 months and I expect him to continue to improve significantly over the next 4 years.

James displays a strong discipline and commitment to his tennis and these qualities will ensure he maximises his development and performs well into the future.

Any assistance you can offer James in the pursuit of his tennis career will be greatly appreciated.

Yours Sincerely,

John McCurdy
